Quotes

"The importance of eschatology for ethics is well established: how we view the future determines in part what we do in the present."

Robert Wall
Community of the Wise

"For James, eschatology is not merely a topic to be studied. James wants the realities of eschatological testing, final judgment, final salvation, and final blessedness to drive us to joy, perseverance, controlled speech, obedience, holiness, support for the disadvantaged, respect for the poor, mercy for the destitute, careful selection of church leaders, submission, humility, appropriate planning, comfort, patience, stability, faith, prayer, and the restoration of wanderers. Eschatology is at work, compelling us to lives of covenant faithfulness."

Christopher Morgan
A Theology of James

"God-given wisdom is meek. It is not linked to envy, rivalry, or self-promotion. It rejects factions, rivalries, or party spirits. People characterized by false wisdom seek to "win" against others, and in so doing they divide churches. If people boast about their wisdom and their power over others, they deny the truth they supposedly teach, and their so-called wisdom 'is not the wisdom that comes down from above, but is earthly, unspiritual, demonic' (James 3:15)."

Christopher Morgan
A Theology of James

"After James describes the arrogance of the rich and self-indulgent oppressors, he names their fate at the hands of the Judge. When the family of God faces oppression, we must neither grumble nor seek vengeance. We must remain patient until the Lord comes. We will remember the lessons the proud forget: God, the Judge and Sovereign, hears the cries of the oppressed."

Daniel Doriani
James

For next week:

Mark 1:16-20

We are really glad you could be with us this morning. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to ask our pastor or one of the elders. They would be glad to help you in any way they can. You can call or reach us at: www.clarksvillepca.org. "Cpcprayers2020" is the password for the prayer requests page.

*As you are able, please stand.
